Frequently Asked Questions:
If I advocate for marijuana law reform, can that alone implicate me with illegal activity?

Answer: NO. Expressing your opinion is constitutionally protected free speech. Supporting a bill in the legislature or advocating for legal reforms on their merit alone in no way implicates you for illegal activities unless you bring it up. Free speech is a fundamental right and should be exercised often.

Why can’t we have medical marijuana on the ballots and vote on the issue like other states?

Answer: The WI State Constitution does not allow for direct legislation through ballot initiatives. Non-binding referendums can be placed on the ballot through signature and county board petitioning, but they do not require elected officials to take action.

When is Great Midwest Marijuana Harvest Fest in Madison?

Answer: First Weekend in October www.MadisonHempFest.com
